

If Sinclair Broadcasting's is allowed to air (i.e., force) biased political specials just prior to the presidential election, it will be an outrageous example of why a "media monopoly" is dangerous.

When a large corporation controls the airwaves, it is often that company's agenda that is foremost, not a fair and balanced perspective. It is troublesome for the communities that are within their reach and a real threat to democracy.

Based on what I've seen regarding Sinclair Broadcasting, I believe our broadcasting regulations need to be strengthened. They are a prime example of why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
